Evelyn Nesbit Says She Lives Now Only for Her Little Boy.

New York, May 25.—"My life from now on shall be lived only for my little boy."

Evelyn Nesbit (Thaw)—she has given up permanently, she says the name of "Thaw"—who has just returned to New York after a theatrical tour in the west and south that covered 20,000 miles, made this statement apropos of her future.

"I have begun my work for my little boy's future by putting every dollar I can save in trust for him, and even I cannot draw upon this fund, no matter how badly I may need it."

Harry Thaw, when he cut off my allowance did the best thing he ever did for me.

"The more I think of Thaw the more the problem of the girl of the theaters comes. The Johnnies who haunt the stage doors are 'no good,' to use an expressive Americanism. If they were they would not be hanging around a stage girl."

In describing the experiences of her arrest in Richmond for appearing in an "immoral performance," Miss Nesbit laughed good naturedly and said:

"I don't know Judge Kelly of vaudeville fame, but the judge in Richmond who tried my case was as much like him as two peas. When the several ministers appeared in court against me the dear old southern judge up and asked them their callings and if they had seen my performance. They looked horrified, shaking their heads in disgust. When the judge asked them if they objected to the idea of a young woman trying to earn her living in a respectable manner they had to confess they saw no objection."

"Then you haven't seen the play? No? And you don't know—only from hearsay evidence—whether it is good or bad? No. Well, I understand," continued the Virginian, "that Miss Nesbit is a beautiful woman—a very beautiful woman—and I think I'll take in the show tonight myself—court's adjourned," he added with a mighty swing of the gavel."

PICNIC ON SANTO TOMAS GRANT. The annual meeting and picnic of the Santo Tomas Farm company will be held at the Santo Tomas grant, in the upper valley, on May 26, when the election of officers will be held. Improvements for the big tract decided upon and plans for a publicity campaign discussed. The meeting will be an all day one and a picnic will be held under the trees on the big grant.

REFERENCE WORK FOR EVERYBODY

Can Be Purchased For Price of One Volume With a Coupon in The Herald.

Here is a book event that will long be remembered in El Paso. There has always been an urgent need for a convenient work of reference. Every publisher who has issued an encyclopedia seemed to have a desire to make it as large as possible, without regard to convenience, and the object seems to have been to incorporate as many words as possible to fill space and increase the size. So, while there are many sets of this nature on the market, they did not meet the requirements of the general public for the reason that they are too large and unhandy.

Taking this into consideration, the publishers of People's Cyclopaedia have compiled a work in one set of five volumes of convenient and usable size, and with the sole idea of giving the reader just the information wanted on every subject in a simple, straightforward manner that is easily and quickly comprehended.

More than 100 of the large metropolitan newspapers of the country, under the auspices of the National Newspaper Syndicate, have planned a popular educational movement that has already accomplished untold good for the many thousands of newspaper readers who have been able to share in the great benefits offered. The syndicate's representative in El Paso, The Herald, announces that, for the express benefit of its friends and readers, it has arranged to make a distribution of this great reference work in this city. This public spirited newspaper is naturally interested in the welfare of its friends and readers. The Herald is pleased to undertake this great work without exacting one penny of profit from the distribution of these books. On Wednesday, the distribution will begin, and continue daily until the allotment of books for El Paso and vicinity is exhausted, which, however, in any event, will be closed promptly at the expiration of the 10th day.

As before stated, this handy reference work is complete in five volumes, beautifully bound in English silk cloth. These five volumes comprise all the important subjects in all departments of knowledge, including: biographical sketches, chronological history, and educational data from all sources throughout the entire world. People's Cyclopaedia represents the equivalent of a valuable library of modern reference books for everybody. It is accurately compiled from the latest sources of authority, and introduces hundreds of new subjects, covering all recent advances in the progress of the world up to the date of publication. The various sections are conveniently arranged for quick reference in alphabetical order, so that page numbers are not required. Instead of using the old time methods that make other encyclopedias out of date before they are completed, the modern card index plan was used, so that during the long and expensive period of compilation all recent events could be added to keep the work abreast of the times, and this plan renders People's Cyclopaedia unique among reference works, as it contains the knowledge of recent days of the world's progress up to the present time, which workers and students have greater need to refer to than to the knowledge of previous years.

Beginning next Wednesday, these sets will be ready for distribution at The Herald office to its friends and readers. Read the great offer on another page of this issue, and clip the coupon without delay. "First come, first served," will be the rule while this 10 day distribution continues.—Advertisement.

GARDEN ATOP HOTEL PASO DEL NORTE OPENED; MANY ATTEND.

Summer was officially declared present Saturday evening when the Paso del Norte roof garden was opened for the summer season. The cool weather following the rain storm reduced the crowd a little for the opening night, but there was a good attendance and many Saturday night shoppers visited the garden to enjoy the moving pictures and the music of the 29th infantry regimental band.

The roof garden has been redecorated with palms and flowers and is more attractive even than last year. During the evening there was dancing in the ball room adjoining the roof garden.

DIAMONDS

It requires years of education and constant practice to determine with any degree of accuracy, the value of diamonds. Their value depends not only on their weight, size, color, shape and brilliancy, but also upon a combination of these qualities.

It is practically impossible for the occasional purchaser to acquire this knowledge. This fact is oft times taken advantage of by unscrupulous dealers to sell imperfect stones with the pretense that they are the highest grade. The diamond purchaser runs no risk in buying from us. Our reputation is an absolute guarantee of safety.
